This Week in the Law School

Halloween is rapidly approaching, and while it is supposed to be the scariest week of the year, we all know that the election isn't until Nov. 8. ELS is having a fun event on Wednesday at Cardinal Spirits, OWLS is hosting its annual trick-or-treating event Thursday, and SBA is having a Halloween party Saturday at the Bluebird. It's enough to put a smile on any ornithologist's face. Put on your finest business attire for the Class of 2017 composite photos Wednesday through Friday. Remember: These are the photos that will hang on the walls here for decades and possibly be used by the media should you ever be charged or convicted of a major crime. They also make wonderful Tinder profile pics. Let's swipe right into this week's events, shall we?

Become a MELSA Leader

Are you interested in transnational law, international finance law, international trade law, international human rights law, conflicts law, environmental and natural resources law, national security law, or U.S. intelligence law? The Middle East is a nexus of diverse fields of legal study and central to the United States' foreign policy interests. The Middle Eastern Law Students Association (MELSA) is looking for students to interested in leadership positions on the executive board. Membership is open to students of all backgrounds. The purpose of MELSA is to increase student and faculty awareness of issues pertaining to the Middle East and their impact on the legal profession. If interested, please email Mike Burelli (mburelli@iu.edu).

ABA Forum on Communication Law Conference Scholarships Available

The ABA Forum on Communications Law's annual conference for media lawyers takes place February 9-11, 2017 in New Orleans. The conference provides two opportunities for law students to attend and participate. First, there is a media law workshop for new lawyers and law students. Second, the forum provides one to three scholarship opportunities that cover the costs of attending the conference. To increase the diversity of the media bar, one scholarship is dedicated to a student who is a member of a diverse law student organization. The other scholarship(s) are open to all law students. Contact Prof. Joe Tomain (jtomain@indiana.edu), a member of the forum's training and development committee, with any questions.

Perform at the Gong Show

It's Gong Show Time! The Gong Show is the Law School's talent show, and we are recruiting talent to sign up to participate. This year's event will take place on Thursday, Nov. 3. If you would like to perform, email Kayla Frye (kjfrye@indiana.edu).

How to Schedule an Event

An online form is available to plan and schedule meetings. Please use this form to request a room, notify Indiana Law Annotated, and send other information about your event. You will receive confirmation that your room has been reserved after your request has been processed. When filling out your event description, please provide all information possible, especially if you are requesting that the event be publicized.

ILA Submissions

Indiana Law Annotated is published every Monday while school is in session with news about the coming week. Submit information and articles for ILA to ila@indiana.edu by Thursday at noon for inclusion in Monday's edition. Length of submission is limited to 150 words, unless otherwise approved. Entries may be edited to ensure consistent presentation. If you're requesting a room, submit all information (including the room request) by emailing (lawrooms@indiana.edu). If you have questions about an item appearing in the ILA, please contact James Boyd (joboyd@indiana.edu; phone 855-0156). Indiana Law Annotated is archived online.

Audio-Video Services

Send requests for AV services to Carl James (lawav@indiana.edu). Please include the name of your group and the e-mail address of the contact person, a description of what you want to do, and the date, location, starting time, and duration of the event. Requests must be made at least 48 hours in advance and will be confirmed by e-mail.
